

PELLISIER HOUSE MUSEUM, BETHULIE

BACKGROUND

Bethulie was a London Missionary Society station and the original mission buildings still stand.

This museum was erected as the residence of the reverend J.P. Pellisier, a French missionary of the Paris Mission Organisation. The lifestyle of the period can be appreciated by visitors. Household items as well as clothes, vehicles, furniture and a photo gallery are on display. This museum was opened on 20 July 1979.

VISITING HOURS

Open: Enquiries at Library

Tuesdays: 10:00-12:30

Thursdays: 10:00-12:30

Saturdays: 14:00-17:00

After hours on request

CONTACT DETAILS

Physical Address: Pellisier House Museum, PO Box 87, Bethulie, 9992

Physical Address: 1 Voortrekker Street, Bethulie

Tel: (051762) 69

Fax: (051762) 333